8 establishment of this method of arbitration shall not, however, in any way whatsoever, be deemed 9 to be a recognition by the state of compulsory arbitration as a superior method of settling labor 10 disputes between employees who possess the right to strike and their employers, but rather shall 11 be deemed to be a recognition solely of the necessity to provide some alternative mode of settling 12 disputes where employees must, as a matter of public policy, be denied the usual right to strike.

30 employee organization is withdrawn or changed by vote of the municipal employees in the 31 appropriate bargaining unit after a duly conducted election held pursuant to the provisions of this 32 chapter. An employee organization or the municipal employer may designate any person or
